Executive Summary – Git and GitHub Lab
Christian Toribio

Fork Repository: https://github.com/tchrjs/CS-472-Senior-Design-Project

In the graph below displays the list of commits made by authors that have their corresponding color. It shows when people have worked on each file and how active they were in editing those files. The data is provided from the repo 'scottyab/rootbeer' and it considers only files with the java extensions. The time that the data was gathered for the data below was 1/27/2023.

A general analysis summary of what is shown above is that age of this project was near the 400 week mark. That's generally where most of the files were made. Within that time frame, you can see how the work was distributed within the team members. Some worked on it during a certain time frame, others came back. You can also see that a lot of people have worked on file 7. It required more assistance or needed more maintenance compared to other files.